CONFERENCE SUCCESSFUL

Delegates to Sydney Supported Attitude of Britain In Recent Crisis

Speaking for the members of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, Professor N. A. M. McKenzie stated last night aboard the S.S. Niagara, shortly after the British Empire Conference at Sydney had been a most successful affair, although somewhat overshadowed by the crisis in Europe.

Although the gathering had no official status, a number of recommendations to Empire Governments will be embodied in the report of the proceedings, which will be published within the next six months by the Oxford University Press.

SUPPORT CHAMBERLAIN
Commenting on the attitude of the conference towards the European situation in September, Professor McKenzie stated that the various delegates were emphatic in their support of the stand taken by Prime Minister Chamberlain and expressed general admiration for his efforts to preserve the peace.

ASKING COUNCIL FOR MORE MONEY

Ladysmith Community Centre Committee Wants School Building Measure Increased to $25,000

LADYSMITH, Oct. 20.—Meeting with representatives of the School Board and the City Council, a strong delegation from the new Community Centre Committee, urged last evening that the amount of the school building by-law, due to come before the ratepayers in December, be increased from $20,000 to a total of $25,000.

Back of the plea was the suggestion that the amount of $5,000 for the construction of an auditorium-gymnasium was entirely inadequate and that the extra $5,000 would provide a building worthy of the name.

The executive committee of the community organization offered a pledge to provide $300 a year for ten years to help provide sinking fund and interest for the extra amount.

After some hours' discussion, during which some members of the City Council objected to increasing the amount as it would be prejudicial to the $20,000 plan already assented to by the council, the meeting adjourned without a decision.

The Community Committee will formally submit their plan to the council for official action thereon.

army and navy registers and other data, and he put it in my handbag." In another part, the confession said:

"Schlueter told me Rurnich would be paid $1,000 for the plans of the United States aircraft carriers Enterprise and Yorktown."

THEFT PLANNED
Rurnich already has testified he plotted to steal the airplane carrier plans by forging President Roosevelt's signature on bogus White House stationery, ordering the Navy Department to deliver the plans to the ring.

In the statement, Miss Hofmann, working as a hairdresser on the North German Lloyd liner Europa when she was seized by G-men last February, allegedly acknowledged the invariability carried all the incriminating documents to and from the boat.

The statement quoted her as saying Schlueter told her he was an agent of the German Intelligence Service, that he gave her a code book and instructed her that all correspondence should be conducted in that medium.

SMITH—The funeral of Joseph Henry Smith will be held from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel this afternoon at 2 o'clock, under the auspices of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Victoria Area No. 12, and interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

POLLARD—There passed away on October 18 at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, after a short illness, Augusta Rose, wife of Fred Pollard, of 931 Gloucester Place, aged fifty-three years. She was born at Yokohama, Japan, and is survived by her husband; a son, William F., in England; one daughter, Mrs. L. G. Pacey, of Trinidad, B.W.I., but at present residing in Victoria; also a brother and three sisters in Japan. The remains were cremated privately at the Royal Oak Crematorium on October 20. Hayward's B.C. Funeral Co. was in charge.

DICK—The funeral of Kathleen Edith Dick, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dick, took place yesterday morning from the Thomson Funeral Home, the cortege proceeding to the Catholic Church, Songhees Reserve, where Mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock. Rev. Father A. B. Wood was the celebrant. Many friends attended and the casket was covered with floral tributes. Interment was made in the Songhees Cemetery.

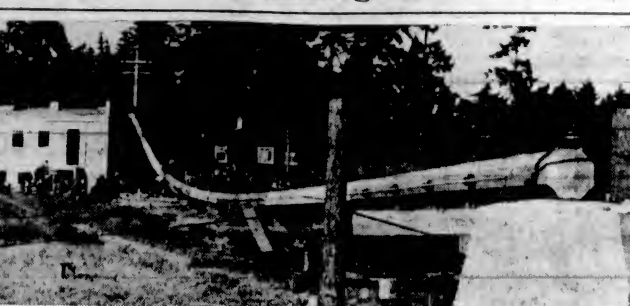

ROBERTSON—Many friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Catherine Robertson held on Wednesday afternoon from McCall Brothers' Funeral Home, Rev. Peter McNabb conducted the service, during which the hymns "Rock of Ages" and "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go" were sung. Interment was made in the negotiators they cannot "sell" the agreement to the American people as it stands at present.

MOTOR CAR TARIFF
The discussion on automobiles has centred on applying to cars of 20-horsepower or more the 10 per cent tariff reduction the British were willing to make on cars of 25-horsepower or more.

United States negotiators contended that concessions on the higher horsepower cars would not assist American exports sufficiently because such cars could not compete with low horsepower British automobiles.

The British delegation here has been reduced to three members. Negotiators on both sides were said to feel all negotiating possible had been done and the decision rests with the respective Governments. Officials said it would be most unfortunate for the agreement to fall through, because in the six months the negotiations have been carried on hundreds of concessions had been granted by both sides.

CANADA'S POSITION
OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (AP).—Difficulties reported encountered in negotiating the United Kingdom-United States reciprocal trade agreement might further delay signing of the proposed revision of the Canada-United States pact, it was indicated here tonight.

The two treaties are complementary in many respects and have been under consideration in Washington since early Spring. Conclusion of the negotiations has been expected for several months and it is understood here the Canada-United States pact is practically ready for signing, but is awaiting final settlement of the Anglo-United States agreement.

CHOIR REHEARSAL

FIVE BONFIRES WILL BE MADE

Further Details Arranged by City Committee for Halloween Plans

Satisfactory progress with the arrangements for the children's bonfires to be held at Halloween, Monday October 31, were reported by all members of the city Halloween celebrations committee at a further organization meeting held in the City Hall committee-room last night.

It was announced that it would not be possible for a bonfire to be made in Central Park this year, and that five fires would be made in the following localities:

Victoria West School—Victoria West Park.
Burnside and Quadra Schools—Corner of Garbally Road and Douglas Street.
Oaklands School—Spencer Park.
James Bay School—Corner of Niagara and Oswego Streets.
Hollywood and Sir James Douglas Schools—Corner of St. Charles and Brooke Streets.

EQUAL DIVISION

After allowance was made for all expenses, it was found that a balance of approximately $75 would remain from the grant of $150 made by the City Council, and it was agreed that this sum should be divided equally between the five fires, for prizes, candy, peanuts, and apples for the children.

A public appeal was made for donations of good things for the children, and for firewood, boxes, and old tires for the fires.

UNIFORMED POLICEMEN

Members of the committee agreed that it was essential that uniformed policemen should be stationed at the fires, and it was resolved that a delegation should approach the chief of police in this respect. W. Herbert Warren, secretary of the committee, announced that city firemen would be present at the fires, and would render every assistance. Members of the St. John Ambulance Brigade also would attend.

It was agreed that tickets should be issued free to the pupils of all schools, including the high school, in connection with competitions to be held at the fires.

On this plane were also shipments for branches of John Forsyth Limited in Winnipeg, Regina and Calgary. Picture shows G. L. UNFAIR AND UNREASONABLE

The Provincial Government's decision to order the oil industry to effect a reduction of 3 cents (or thereabouts) in the cost per gallon of gasoline is a move in the direction of crippling the industry. It is a venture in price-cutting that, with its implications affecting other industries, will prevent capital from investing in this Province. The result will be that the Provincial Government is likely to find itself with an intensified unemployment problem on its hands. Common sense would dictate that industrial development should be encouraged instead of discouraged by legislation. It is lying in the face of sound economics to regiment business and industry under existing conditions.

A statement has been issued by Mr. A. E. Halverson, director of the Imperial Oil Company and manager of its Western operations. He points out that the company and the industry are now losing money in British Columbia, and that the fixing of gasoline prices at lower levels can only be maintained at the expense of capital employed in the industry. Operating in a country like Canada, Mr. Halverson very naturally does not believe that the present British Columbia Government, or any Government in the Dominion, "can for long, by the powers vested in it through the people, legislate to the extent that industry can be crippled so that reasonable return on investment cannot be earned." He goes on to say that "Imperial Oil can only take note of the proposed action, and with due consideration to its employees, its shareholders and the public, take such action, when and as necessary, should the Government follow its indicated course, all with due consideration for the principles of sound business and its part in the development of British Columbia, of which it has been an integral part for many years."

The Provincial Government through its attempt at fuel control is, as has been so often the case in the past, launching the Province anew on a sea of legal trouble. It has not established its authority to legislate in restraint of business. This policy of price-fixing is one that interests industry and business as a whole, for if the Province has the power to dictate prices in any one industry, it can make the attempt to interpret that power to apply to all industry. What a pretty kettle of fish that would imply. The Province, on several fronts, would be challenging the authority of the Federal Department of Trade and Commerce, as it will probably be doing in the case of the oil industry. It is singling out gasoline, presumably as a test case to determine its price-fixing powers. It is singling out a commodity on the sale of which money is being lost in this Province. The attempt is both unfair and unreasonable and may well prove to be ultra vires, since industry is entitled to legitimate protection and should never be the subject of legislation unless guilty of malfeasance in its relationships with the public.

TESTS FOR MOTORISTS

Motorists, young and old, must go to school again, or engage in some intensive home study. There are 251 questions that they must be prepared to answer if they are to retain their driving licences, though there is no indication if they must learn the fifty-one-page manual by heart. They will pay, as well, in addition to what they now pay for driving licences, for the privilege of increasing their knowledge about how to drive a car in the safest way. So far no indication has come from Government quarters as to what percentage of failure to answer questions will pluck a candidate for honors. Usually, in governmental examinations, there is a pass list on a percentage basis, and so there are good, bad and indifferent students. It will be a pity if there are to continue to be, as now, good, bad and indifferent motorists. It is to wipe out badness and indifference that the new examinations tests are to be applied, so it would seem that there must be equal knowledge all round, or else no driving. If the Government is able to enforce this it will have performed a miracle.

The principle of tests of motor drivers is an excellent one. The Government is on the right track, but it may be that it intends to travel in a complicated way. It has most certainly indulged in a lot of expense to put its tests into motion, and the main objection to what is to be done is that it means new taxation on top of too heavy taxation on motorists already. The plan, however, can only be criticized if it fails to accomplish what it has in view, namely, a reduction in the toll of the roads because of motor traffic. What is proposed could have been done in the first instance in connection with the issue of the ordinary driving licence, and done at the time when such licence is issued. That would have made the protective scheme less costly, and would have avoided, as well, the increased taxation which is now to be enforced.

NEXT SESSION AT OTTAWA

There is some reason to believe that the Federal Parliament will be summoned to meet next month, the idea being to reach prorogation before the visit of Her Majesty to Canada. Apart from the Royal visit there are matters of moment to be discussed. Mr. Mackenzie King recently announced that the new reciprocal trade treaty between Canada and the United States was about ready. It will have to be debated in Parliament. There is the question of the growing aggression of the railway problem, a study of which has been in progress in the Senate and which will, presumably, be resumed with some hope of early recommendations for a solution. Other matters of Federal issue are unemployment, wheat marketing and the growing needs of defence arising out of the recent European crisis.

There is the anticipation that a general election will be held in the Dominion in about a year's time. This would mean that the coming session will be the last of the present Parliament. The Government has many issues upon which decisions should be reached if it is to be able to defend its record before the electorate. Normally a session lasts about five months, though the present Parliament, one of the most loquacious in debate that the country has ever known, is liable to sit for longer. In these circumstances an Autumn session seems advisable, and will probably be decided upon the return of the Prime Minister from his present holiday trip. What will hasten the meeting of Parliament is the necessity of making preparations for the Royal visit, some of which may well have their inception during the course of the forthcoming session.

DR. R. J. MANION'S VISIT

The leader of an Opposition has much more time at his disposal than the leader of a Government to become acquainted at first hand with what the people are doing and thinking. For that reason there can only be regret that Dr. R. J. Manion could not have spent at least a day or two in this city, when a public meeting could have been arranged to hear his views. He is making a rapid-fire trip through the West, during which he can only obtain cursory knowledge of conditions in this part of Canada. He has been a welcome guest wherever he goes, and the welcome here would have been even more cordial had there been more opportunity of expressing it. Dr. Manion, it is true, will have some time before there is another Federal election to introduce himself to the people as a whole, and it is a policy to which he will give time and thought. After all, it is essential for him to know what is the public reaction to the Conservative platform decided upon at the recent Ottawa convention, and to know as well how his leadership of the party is being received. Perhaps his visit of yesterday merely foreshadows many other trips West when he will find his occasions less hurried. That will be the hope of all those who espouse Conservative doctrines in British Columbia.

TRAFALGAR

Almost coincident with today's anniversary of the Battle of Trafalgar comes the story of how the British Navy mobilized in preparation to meet war had such developed from the recent European crisis. It is a story in line with the traditions of that great instrument of power. It is not only Great Britain but the Empire as a whole that is dependent on the use and safety of sea communication. If that communication were definitely severed the life of the Empire would be short, and the peoples of all British countries owe a perennial debt to those who guard their maritime communications. This may well be recalled on the anniversary of Trafalgar, which was the prelude that led up to the drama of Waterloo. Wherever there are British people, Trafalgar should be commemorated. In this city it is regrettable that the practice of hoisting Nelson's signal on the flagstaff of the Parliament Buildings ground should have been discontinued. It was evidence of a desire to keep one hand on the traditions of the past, those traditions which so nearly had to be invoked in a pregnant way during the past few weeks to meet another challenge from dictatorship.

M. Emile Ludwig, the writer, says Germany does not so much want riches and colonies as she wants victories. "There are definite limits, however, to victories of the bloodless variety, diplomacy, by virtue of being what it is, is not one-sided."

The Soviet Air Force resents criticism and points in rebuttal to its records. It has one record that no other air force will strive to emulate—that of flying off the handle.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Trafalgar Day! Around the British Empire, wherever men keep green in their hearts the love of courage and honor duty, Admiral Lord Nelson's signal to his fleet will fly today, the anniversary of the historic engagement 132 years ago. Today the foes have become friends, and there is no bitterness in the thought, save warm admiration for men who in their day and age played their parts as men, undaunted.

If you have imagination at all, you may read for yourself the record of the engagement off Cape Trafalgar on October 21, 1805, where, towards noon, the British fleet sailed in two lines against a vastly superior force, the combined fleets of France and Spain; and may bring alive deeds of heroism, courage and determination, coupled with courtesy, generosity and compassion, such as the world has not forgotten, and likely never shall.

From the pages of the record war, human figures spring up to giant stature, in what was then the world's hour of conflict. And while it is natural that we should follow the fortunes of the British fleet, let it be conceded that the foe men fought for the most part with great daring and with true observance of what was the fighting code of that day. There were men, in short, on both sides of the conflict; and how they bore their part is one of the most moving records of all time.

"At daybreak the combined fleets were distinctly seen from the Victory's deck, formed in a close line of battle ahead, on the starboard tack, about twelve miles to leeward, and standing to the south. Our fleet consisted of twenty-seven sail of the line and four frigates; theirs of thirty-three and seven large frigates. Their superiority was greater in size, and weight of metal, than in numbers. They had four thousand troops on board."

From an account by Robert Southey, printed in 1891.

Leave it to historians to give the precise details of the naval battle. There in plain sight were two great fleets sailing into battle at an epic moment in history. As the British crowded on all sail and closed with the foe in a light southwest wind, the sun must have flashed from the billowing canvas and varnished spars, the water fallen away in foaming cascades from the prow of the high, wooden vessels, with their square gun ports; and signal flags have fluttered in multi-colored strings from their masts.

Lord Nelson ordered a close engagement; and at once. One may picture the twin line of British vessels cutting into the opposing lines at a tangent; round shot tearing holes in their sails, and chain shot sweeping their wooden decks, where sweating men labored bare to the waist, averting ponderous wheeled counterweights, their high-recoiling bulwarks too far apart for boarding ship fired on ship; the gunners standing with buckets of water to quench the fires started by the flash of the powder of their own cannon.

Lord Nelson went into the battle in full regalia, with all his honors showing. On H.M.S. Victory he had run up the colors in several places, so that none might think, should the colors be shot away, that they had been hauled down. Next his heart he carried a miniature of Lady Hamilton, and in his heart a straight premonition of victory and of death. Picked riflemen in the crossfires of the opposing vessel may or may not have shot Nelson, but he fell with a rifle ball that struck downward through one epaulette and reached his spine.

The engagement opened towards noon, and Nelson died three and a quarter hours after he had been struck, after having conducted the battle in person almost to the moment of his death. In his dying hours, he gave to his fleet the order to "close with the enemy, and to fight him on board." The high-decked opposing vessels closed their lower gun ports, to avoid being boarded, and gunners on both sides quenched the fires of their own cannon had started. And as they fought, the wind freshened, driving ashore many a fine prize, won fairly and in open battle. It must have been a frayed and tattered host that the declining sun reddened with its parting rays, after the engagement had been decided.

On other ships, similar scenes were being enacted. Counter to counter, the great fleet fought it out. The high-decked opposing vessels closed their lower gun ports, to avoid being boarded, and gunners on both sides quenched the fires of their own cannon had started. And as they fought, the wind freshened, driving ashore many a fine prize, won fairly and in open battle. It must have been a frayed and tattered host that the declining sun reddened with its parting rays, after the engagement had been decided.

One likes to read of British ships helping Spaniards over the sides of their warships, and rescuing them in the heat of battle. One admires, too, reciprocations on the part of the foe, who threw open hospitals on shore to help in caring for wounded foes. There was a deal of courage, and of compassion, on both sides.

If through the yester the image of Trafalgar looms chiefly as the story of Admiral Lord Nelson, it is because he was the most colorful figure of his day. Behind the man was an organization no less wedded to their convictions, and to their duty. Nelson, we may well believe, spoke for all of his men when he said, with dying breath: "Thank God, I have done my duty!" And since it appears that the Admiral's name may be neglected in some places, let us at least read it once while this day passes. It was interpreted:

Nonsense Notes

Somewhat we are beginning to suspect that there must be a gas war going on in the city that we haven't heard about yet. We haven't had time to send out our secret operatives yet, but this morning, coming through the Dardanelles, we observed the company flag of an otherwise prosperous-looking filling station flying upside down from the mast-head. And in nautical terms that is a signal of distress. . . . Next time you're kept awake by the fog horns off Trial Island, hear's something to do while waiting for old man Morpheus to sandwich you—just count your heart beats in between blasts from the whistle; it's really very monotonous and it doesn't mean a thing. Personally we register sixty-four beats a minute, but your beat may range anywhere from eighty down to sixty. Napoleon was supposed to have gone as low as forty, according to doctors. But as I said, it doesn't mean a thing, except that it will probably put you to sleep just as fast as counting sheep.—J.A.M.

A Weighty Question

In the course of our travels, we notice a number of Chinese vegetable peddlers carrying battered scales on their trucks. We wonder if same are periodically inspected by the fair weights and measures officer. . . . A clinker was produced in a recent court case when a lawyer asked a witness about an alarm clock, "Was it set for a.m. or p.m.?" Personally we wish ours was always set for p.m. . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, told us nobody has yet thumbed a ride to Utopia. After a holiday at Seattle, our tobaccoist friend came to the conclusion that fried chicken is the national bird. . . . Broad Street Berle believes an interesting past is all right, if you are sure it is a past. . . . Aubrey, who favors the pedestrian mode of travel, recalled that once upon a time a crank was in front of an automobile. Now it is behind the steering wheel.—G.B.

Against Nazi Rule

Herr Hitler's move to have returned to him mandated territory now under the Union Jack would probably be checked by the residents of these territories themselves. With the Nazi tyrant's next door neighbors, the Czechs wanting to find new homes removed from proximity to Germany and to be placed under the Anglo-Saxon form of government in some of the divisions of the British Empire, it is quite possible that there would be a decided expression of opinion in the mandated areas formerly held by Germany against removal from the British Empire. British Dominions around the world.—O.H.N.

The Sports Parade

Senators played some nice basketball Wednesday at the Victoria High School gymnasium and are now being looked upon as the club to provide competition for Victoria Dominions. They will probably oppose the former Canadian champions next week. . . . "Baldy" Roskamp, local soccer player who has been known to play many matches in overalls and an Indian sweater, saved Victoria City from certain defeat Wednesday afternoon at Heywood Avenue, by bagging two goals late in the game. "Baldy" was all dressed up in soccer togs and really looked like a player. Maybe the change of attire had something to do with his performance. . . . Bill Pynn, caretaker at the Royal Athletic Park, and Bill Cull, concessionaire at the same ground, are both without top teeth. They visited the dentist recently and had the top one's extracted. There's nothing out of the ordinary about that, but it is amusing to see Bill Pynn on one side of the counter telling Bill Cull on the other side of the counter how funny he looks without his teeth. Life's that way.—S.T.

New Street Letter Boxes—Three additional street letter boxes have arrived for the Postoffice Department, and three more are en route from Ottawa, which upon arrival will be erected in various parts of the city. The letter boxes already in use have proved a great convenience to the public, and the extension of the system to a capacity of from 70,000 to 80,000 feet of lumber per day, and will cater for the local and shipping trade. A millwright is expected and the machinery is on the way. In the course of two or three months they will be ready for operations. A large force of men will be employed and wharf accommodation for the largest sea-going vessel will be provided.

New Lumbering Firm—John Anderson, Pembroke, has arrived at Vancouver and formed a partnership with Mr. Gray in the lumbering business. The new firm, to be known as Anderson & Gray, intends to erect a sawmill on the Inlet, having when fully completed a capacity of from 70,000 to 80,000 feet of lumber per day, and will cater for the local and shipping trade. A millwright is expected and the machinery is on the way. In the course of two or three months they will be ready for operations. A large force of men will be employed and wharf accommodation for the largest sea-going vessel will be provided.

Runaway on Yates Street—A lively runaway disturbed the monotony of Yates Street last evening. The runaway, a horse attached to a butcher's cart driven by a man named McWilliams, collided with a telegraph pole near the Clarence Hotel and was brought to a standstill badly damaged.

ALBERTA'S CASE
Sir,—The Colonist moans, frets and sneers because the Alberta Government used the services of several American scholars and economists basing its sneers on the charge that Canada does not need "foreign" brains in settling her problems. To begin with, The Colonist misrepresents the matter by omitting to state that the bulk of the work on the splendid 450-page "The Case for Alberta" was done by eminent Alberta legal authorities, including well known King's counsel and by scholars from the University of Alberta and members of the Alberta Social Credit Board.

The distinguished Dr. Jacob Viner, of the University of Chicago; Dr. Walter and Schmidt, of the University of Minnesota, were called in because they are internationally recognized specialists in the field of governmental finance and in economic analysis. But all this is too petty for consideration seriously. It is quite obvious that The Colonist would not object, for instance, if agents of the Bank of England, or Lord Macmillan or Sir Josiah Stamp, were brought to Canada on behalf of debt-finance. The Colonist, I notice, never objects to outsiders when they come to settle Canada's problems in the interests of orthodox debt-finance. The Colonist for example, was greatly pleased the other day over the report of the Irish "Banking Commission," which declared the Social Credit money reforms were not workable. . . . yet the Irish report was written by Professor Gregory, of the Bank of England, and Dr. Jacobson, of the Bank of International Settlements in Switzerland, neither of them Irishmen.

In short, The Colonist was once again engaging in its customary defence of debt-money against the growth of Social Credit, using any shreds and patches of circumstance and circumlocution it could lay its editorial hands on.

ELECTRICITY IS POPULAR

E. N. Horsey Tells Rotarians
Of Factors Entering Into Electrical Power Cost

Rotarian E. N. Horsey, manager of the light and power department of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, in one of the frequently delivered vocational talks by members of the club, yesterday discussed electrical power at the weekly luncheon of the Victoria Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel. During his address, he dealt with factors which entered into the cost of electrical power, and made reference to the enterprises of the B.C. Electric only for the purpose of illustration. The development of water power in British Columbia, said Mr. Horsey, commenced in 1848, when the Hudson's Bay Company constructed a small sawmill near Parson's Bridge. An overshot water wheel was used.

RAPID DEVELOPMENT
With the development of the use of water turbines, the situation was altered and by the year 1900 about 10,000 h.p. power had been developed. By the end of 1927, there was in the province a development of 719,972 h.p. Of this, 547,950 h.p. is installed in central electrical stations, of which about 50 per cent is utilized in and about Vancouver and New Westminster, while over 44,000 h.p. is for use in Victoria.

The development of 8,112,751 h.p. in British Columbia at the beginning of the year was but 18.6 per cent of the potential development estimated for the province. The average domestic consumption in the Victoria area approaches 1,000 k.w. hours per customer per annum, which approaches double that of the United States average per customer. Mr. Horsey pointed out that as light and power rates were not competitively determined but were of direct interest to the public, it became essential that the rates be kept reasonable.

The intricate nature of the electric power was explained by the speaker, who traced it from the expensive system of water dams and gathering conveyance by high tension lines to the point of distribution, where it was stepped down to meet the demands of the consumer.

LOSS OF WATER
Evaporation of water was an important item. The St. Lawrence system, which varies about two to one between the high water and the low, is regarded as the most uniform.

The variation between maximum and minimum in this province varied from ten to one hundred to one. Jordan River, the source of power for Victoria, was an example of extreme ratio between the maximum and the minimum flow. During the present year the spillway has been dry since May 19. For the past six weeks, the Brentwood Bay steam plant has been operating to capacity.

Mr. Horsey called attention to the fact that the Goldstream hydro-electric plant was the first electric water power plant in British Columbia for distribution of energy. It started in 1898.

The arrangements with the city by the electric company for an auxiliary plant was the minimum flow. During the present year the spillway has been dry since May 19. For the past six weeks, the Brentwood Bay steam plant has been operating to capacity.

Golden Buttons of Zeballos

Visitors to Privateer Mine at Zeballos, on Tuesday, were shown the "buttons" that had been made in the milling process during the preceding four weeks. It was these buttons that were later melted and molded into gold bricks. One hundred and fifty-three pounds avoirdupois of gold were produced. In the picture above are shown Hon. W. J. Assestine, Minister of Mines (seated at left). To the right of the Minister is H. Shoemaker, who directed construction of the mill. Next is F. E. Woodside, manager of the British Columbia Chamber of Mines. Standing next to Mr. Woodside is J. E. Sullivan, field superintendent for Shoemaker & Burnham, mill designers; D. C. Gordon, of Victoria, stands next in line, while Russel Ker is smiling broadly. At the end of the line, pipe in hand, is P. E. Ritchie. Sidney Norman, of The Toronto Globe and Mail, is seated beside the gold.

Britain impregnable against a "knockout blow" from the air.

NATIONAL EFFORT

This tremendous national effort, the Home Secretary added, would be "founded upon British character, British corporate organization and British institutions, including the British preference for voluntary service."

Sir Samuel came vigorously to the defence of the Munich declaration signed by Hitler and Prime Minister Chamberlain, which cast out war as a means of settling Anglo-German differences.

"Our critics declare that these are idle words and that you cannot believe the pledges of the German Fuehrer," the Home Secretary said after reading the text of the peace declaration.

"I refuse to accept this view. I believe Herr Hitler, having met our Prime Minister and having freely discussed with him, man to man, the questions that may divide our two countries, means what he says."

CAUSE FOR ANXIETY

"I know that those who do not take my viewpoint to occasions when, having disclaimed the use of force, he (Hitler) has yet had recourse to it. I admit these instances inevitably give us cause for anxiety. None the less I am convinced that friendly relations with England have always been a cardinal point in Herr Hitler's policy. And I am also convinced that without friendly relations between England and Germany there can be no stable peace in the world."

Sir Samuel recalled that he, on behalf of the British Government, signed the Anglo-German naval agreement, which Hitler had kept in its letter and in its spirit.

A CONCRETE FACT
"Here indeed is a concrete fact that entitles me to attach the greatest importance to the declaration made by Herr Hitler and Mr. Chamberlain," Sir Samuel declared. "Here indeed is a concrete fact that convinces me that with patience, restraint and readiness to understand our respective points of view, it is possible to fill up the trenches that have been dividing Europe into hostile camps and once again create a comity of nations upon which a stable peace can be restored to suffering humanity."

Mrs. E. Jardine, 1530 Despard Avenue, informed police yesterday that $175 had been stolen from her bureau drawer. Detectives who investigated found that entrance had been gained by taking a ladder from the side of the garage and placing it by an open window. All the drawers in one of the rooms were ransacked, police said. Members of the household were at home at the time of the robbery.

The residence of Alicia Sandy, 647 Fort Street, was ransacked and $8 cash reported missing. Entry was made through an unlocked door leading to the premises. Police said the intruders escaped through a rear window and onto the roof, then dropping down into an alley.

A cash box was stolen from one of the Blue Line buses early yesterday morning while it was parked in front of Pimley's Garage, police reported. The amount of cash in the box was not known.

Girl Guide Head From Old Country Visitor to Victoria

On her way home to the Old Country after an eight months' stay in New Zealand, Miss A. M. Knight, Girl Guide commissioner from England, arrived in Victoria last night aboard the liner Niagara.

"It was a wonderful trip and I found the Guide movement in New Zealand a very keen and enthusiastic one," Miss Knight said. During the eight months she trained with about 6,000 Girl Guides in all parts of New Zealand. She was met at the boat here by Mrs. Alan Morkill, local Girl Guide leader, with whom she will stay during her one-day visit in the city.

"James," said the teacher, "come in front of the class and spell 'neighbor'!" — and he did so correctly.

"That's quite right, James," said the teacher. "Now, Tommy, it's your turn. Please tell me what a neighbor is."

After a pause: "Please, miss," said Tommy, "a neighbor is a woman who borrows things."

Newsreel Shows the Launching of Liner Queen Elizabeth

THE launching of the huge liner Queen Elizabeth by Her Majesty the Queen is featured in The Daily Colonist-Universal Newsreel, commencing today at the Dominion Theatre. The mammoth vessel, which will be the fastest afloat, is now being outfitted, and will be put into commission on the Atlantic run, a fitting companion to the Queen Mary.

Other news flashes brought to the screen include the latest scenes from all over Europe as the war scare dies away and the capitals return to a more normal aspect. The terrible tornado which swept Charleston left a wake of havoc and death clearly depicted by the camera man. In the sports world the season turns to football, and action in several important games is shown.

Richard C. Lowe, defence counsel, offered his copy. It was handed to the jury foreman.

Jurors returned again at 6:25 o'clock. Major Stern, the foreman, announced they could not agree upon a verdict.

"You are discharged. The accused is remanded until October 31 for further hearing. The sheriff will summon twelve other talesemen," Mr. Justice McDonald announced.

Mr. Lowe commenced his address to the jury at 9:45 o'clock in the morning and finished at 11:30 o'clock.

M. B. Jackson, K.C., the Crown prosecutor, addressed the jury from 11:44 to 12:37 o'clock. He thanked jurors for their patience of the past three days in listening to the mass of evidence.

DOMINION OFFERS "BOY MEETS GIRL"

James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and Marie Wilson Have Leading Roles in Picture

Reunited after a screen separation of almost three years, James Cagney and Pat O'Brien are co-starring in "Boy Meets Girl," the Warner Bros. comedy about Hollywood which will open today at the Dominion Theatre.

In "Boy Meets Girl," they head a cast which also includes that pretty, blonde comedienne, Marie Wilson, in her first leading role—said to be a "natural" for her—Ralph Bellamy, in what is reported to be his best part since "The Awful Truth." Dick Poran and Frank McHugh. Others are Bruce Lester, James Stephen-son, Dennis Moore and Penny Singleton.

The picture is based on the highly successful stage play of the same name by Bella and Samuel Spewacks.

PLAZA Frieda Inescourt, the Theatre lovely leading lady of Republic's "Portia on Trial," now showing at the Plaza Theatre, took her woman attorney role seriously. Some weeks before the production started she read law books assiduously so that she might better interpret her role.

OAK BAY Produced by Universal Theatre studio, which has recently turned out such hits as "Three Smart Girls" and "100 Men and a Girl," "Merry-Go-Round of 1938" at the Oak Bay Theatre presents a cast consisting of a mixture of the best Broadway and Hollywood comedians, dancers and specialty numbers.

ATLAS Heading the cast of Theatre "Letter of Introduction" at the Atlas Theatre are Adolphe Menjou, Andrea Leeds, Edgar Bergen with the inimitable Charlie McCarthy, and George Murphy. As the story embraces incidents in Bergen's rise to fame with McCarthy, excellent comedy opportunities were offered in its development.

PERSONAL ITEMS and SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Instrumental Groups Unite

A union of two instrumental groups well known in the city has just been effected with the joining of the George Dyke String Orchestra, founded and conducted by Mr. Dyke, and the Victoria Philharmonic Orchestra, directed by Alfred Prescott.

The combination will be known as the Philharmonic Society. Mr. Dyke will not altogether lay aside his baton, but will take part in some future programmes of the society.

Those who intended to join the string orchestra this season will be welcomed it is stated, at the weekly practices of the philharmonic group on Wednesday evenings in the Anion Club's rehearsal rooms, over the Victoria Book and Stationery store, Government Street.

Clubs-Societies

Fairfield United W.M.S.
Fairfield United Church W.M.S. held the Autumn thanksgiving meeting yesterday afternoon in the social hall, the president, Mrs. G. Green, in the chair. After the opening hymn, prayer led by Mrs. G. Gordon, and the thanksgiving psalm, Mrs. G. Piercy gave a resume of the work of the Honan Mission. This year the mission is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary, and the account of the progress made was of particular interest. One result was that the number of converts now exceeded 6,000. The treasurer of the W.M.S., Miss E. Hopkins, read a satisfactory financial statement; Mrs. W. Bevan read the temperance report, and Mrs. Bohlender read a letter from Mrs. Welch, Bella Coala. Miss Estelle Clark spoke of the Mission Band work, and Mrs. Yardley, the Baby Band. Mrs. Greer and Mrs. Clark sang a duet. Mrs. Borup, the guest speaker, told of her life in India, where she worked as a missionary with her husband for thirty-seven years. Mrs. C. A. Fields moved the vote of thanks to the speaker and the singers. Mrs. Creed and her circle were the tea hostesses.

Garden City W.A.

The monthly meeting of the W.A. of Garden City United Church was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. E. Pebernau, Rowland Avenue. Mrs. A. P. Fryatt presided and the devotional exercises were led by Rev. W. P. McHaffie. Encouraging reports were read by the secretary, Mrs. W. Armstrong, and treasurer, Mrs. H. Hogg. Arrangements were made for a sale of work to be held in the church on the afternoon of Wednesday, November 9, and in the evening a concert will be held, the programme to be prepared by the men of the congregation. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. A. Scott, Jasmine Avenue. Tea was served at the close of the meeting when the hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Catherine Pebernau.

Wilkinson Road W.A.

The monthly meeting of the W.A. of Wilkinson Road United Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Allison, Lochholme Road. In the absence of the president, Mrs. G. Jones, the vice-president presided and led in the opening exercises. Satisfactory reports on recent activities were heard and arrangements made to hold a sale of work and home cooking on Wednesday, November 2, at the home of Rev. William and Mrs. Allan, Glyn Road. During the afternoon, Mrs. A. E. Camplin, on behalf of the auxiliary, presented a silver cup to Eleanor Jean Rainer, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Rainer. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. Jones, Carey Road.

T.V.A. Auxiliary Planning Bazaar

The Women's Auxiliary to the Tuberculosis Veterans Post No. 18 will hold its Fall bazaar tomorrow afternoon at 812 Blanshard Street, and it will be opened at 3 o'clock by Mrs. Andrew McGavin, wife of the mayor of Victoria.

There will be attractive stalls in charge of Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Laird, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Huelin and Mrs. Young, and the tea tickets will be sold by Mrs. Barracough. Mrs. D. W. Burnett will be the general convener. Cards will be played in the evening, and supper will be served at 8 o'clock. Final plans for this bazaar were made at a meeting yesterday of the auxiliary at the home of Mrs. Austin, 508 William Street. Mrs. Clark, as convener of the hope chest contest at the Willow Fair, was thanked for her work and her helpers were also thanked. Mrs. George Laird offered her home, 2633 Orchard Avenue, for the next meeting on November 17. Mrs. Austin was thanked for her hospitality.

Kinsmen Club to Hold Annual Sale

The annual rummage sale, sponsored by members of the Victoria Kinsmen Club will be held tomorrow morning, in the premises formerly occupied by Vaughan's Groceries, 1322 Douglas Street. The Kinsmen Club is looking forward to the usual support of the Victoria public on this occasion.

This organization has always taken a keen interest in the welfare of the city, and for a number of years has done considerable service work in the community in a quiet manner. This year, wives of the members were in attendance, assisting in disposing of the articles of clothing offered for sale.

Y.P.S. News

WILKINSON ROAD
There was a good attendance at the weekly meeting of the Y.P.S. of Wilkinson Road United Church, which met on Monday evening. Miss Alvaretta McNutt presided. The main feature of the evening was the musical traveltogue, when the chief characteristics of popular writers were discussed and selections played from "Tannhauser" and "Carmen," and some of the works of Grieg. Descriptive addresses were given by Kay Hodgson, E. Burkholder and William Allan. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

ST. SAVIOUR'S
At a recent meeting of St. Saviour's Society, it was decided to hold another card party this evening. Plans were discussed to hold a country fair in the near future. Games were enjoyed by the members after the meeting.

BELMONT
A scavenger hunt was held at the last meeting of the Belmont Y.P.S. The members were divided into groups of four and were given one hour to find the specified articles. Refreshments were served and business discussed after everyone had returned. Arthur Zala and Roy Whittle were responsible for this very successful evening. Miss Audrey Morrison, vice-president, will be in charge of the next meeting, on Monday, at 7:30 p.m. A Halloween social will be sponsored by the young people on Friday, October 28, at 8 p.m. The programme will consist of progressive games, community singing, fortune telling, etc. Tickets may be secured from any of the members. Kay Knoll, Mona Emery, Audrey Morrison, Roy Whittle, Arthur Zala, Roy Hundleby and Robert Johnston are the committee in charge.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SALMON PIE—This delicious way of serving salmon was originally spelled "pye," and comes from way back in the eighteenth century. It is just as good today. Three eggs separated, 1/4 cup soft breadcrumbs, 1/4 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/4 cup melted butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon mace, 2 teaspoons minced parsley, 1/2 cup dry sherry or white wine, 2 cups flaked and bone salmon, rich pastry. Method: Beat yolks well. To them add crumbs, lemon, butter, seasonings and mace. Add this to the salmon flaked, boned and skinned. Fold in stiffly beaten whites and pour into a pan lined with rich pastry. Bake ten minutes at 400 deg. Fahr., then reduce temperature to 350 deg. Fahr., and continue baking for about thirty minutes or until crust is brown and the centre is firm. Serve very hot, garnished with parsley sprigs and lemon sections.

Brid-to-Be of Duncan Guest at Shower and Tea

DUNCAN, Oct. 20.—Honoring Miss Josephine Balas, whose marriage to Mr. G. M. Hewlett will take place next month, Miss Patricia Car-Hillson, entertained at a delightful tea and kitchen shower yesterday afternoon. A "movie contest" was held, Miss May Compton-Lundie being winner after a draw with Misses Balas and Eileen Vaughan.

After tea, a "parcel" was delivered to the guest-of-honor, which contained many useful gifts. Miss Balas suitably expressed her appreciation.

Among the invited guests were Mrs. B. Debell, Mrs. von Stralen-dorf, Mrs. Percival Napier, Misses Shirley Gooding, Jean, Kathleen and Dorothy Duncan, Eileen Vaughan, Eleanor Boyd-Wallis, Margaret Galloway, Betty Johnston and May Compton-Lundie.

Solarium W.A. Makes Over $50

The sum of $56 was realized from the successful concert held recently by the Solarium W.A. It was made known at the meeting of the W.A. yesterday afternoon. A letter of thanks was received from the directors.

The knitting convener reported that six pullovers, seven shirts and six vests had been received. Arrangements were made for cutting out material next week.

Tentative plans were made for a silver tea to be held in December. One new member was welcomed at the meeting.

P.T.A. Activities

LANGFORD
An executive meeting of the Langford Association was held on Tuesday afternoon in the school. Mrs. P. N. Welch and Miss Cary gave reports of the local council meeting and filled out a questionnaire submitted by the P.T.A. Federation. BREN CONTRACT EXPENSE SHOWN ton, Chief of General Staff, thought Canadian munitions requirements should be made in a Dominion arsenal. Another, headed by General LaFleche, believed the material should be obtained from private manufacturers. He had the highest and equal admiration for both officers, the Minister said.

Col. Drew conducted General LaFleche through the records showing Major Hahn had claimed from the Dominion traveling expenses and compensation for his personal services at a rate as high as $50 a day for the period during which the contract was being negotiated.

$20,000 FOR WORK

Because a British War Office order for 5,000 Bren guns placed with Major Hahn would enable the Defence Department to obtain its necessary supply of 7,000 guns at a much lower figure, Major Hahn was promised compensation up to a maximum of $20,000 for his preliminary work in developing the business and the necessary plant equipment.

Vouchers for expenses for more than $25,000 were submitted by the Inglis Company, but later were recalled because of an error and have not been paid.

Mr. Mackenzie told the commission he had signed a letter introducing Major Hahn to War Office officials in October, 1936, without knowing him.

HIGHLY RECOMMENDED

He signed the letter and gave it to Hugh Plaxton, Liberal Member of Parliament for Ontario-Trinity, to be transmitted to Hahn for three reasons, the Minister said. He was highly recommended by Mr. Plaxton; he had the confidence and recommendation of the deputy minister, and he was a distinguished ex-officer of the Intelligence Corps, which demanded the utmost of fidelity, discretion and loyalty.

When General LaFleche was being cross-examined on the Hahn expense vouchers it was disclosed one of the accounts was for some $6,000 for legal services rendered by the Plaxton law firm, of Toronto. Another account asked $500 compensation for Major Hahn for the day he spent in Ottawa when he came here October 9, 1936, with Plaxton to meet General LaFleche.

FIRST SAW GUN

According to the evidence it was that day Hahn first saw a Bren gun, one having been set up "by chance" in the office of General LaFleche. It was that day the idea of making this gun in Canada was born.

The company's account was for the actual cost of preliminary investigation, planning and engineering services prior to the signing of the contract. Included were charges for legal services and also services by and traveling expenses for Major Hahn and other officials of the company. For Major Hahn, $50 a day and expenses were claimed on his visits to Ottawa and England in connection with Bren guns, and $15 a day when he worked on plans and preparations in Toronto.

The total claimed for Hahn's pay and expenses was more than $15,000.

REBEL COMMAND AMASSING ARMY

which had been waging sporadic guerrilla warfare since April, 1936. The rebels seem well supplied with arms and ammunition smuggled by way of Syria, Trans-Jordan and Iraq. (France is trying to curb such traffic in Syria.)

They have their own intelligence service, supply corps, military courts and an espionage system. They issue laws, decrees and proclamations like a bona fide government. Many of the military bureaux are equipped with typewriters, telephones and furniture stolen from British Government offices.

While the Government had many sources of revenue, including borrowing powers, the municipalities were limited to taxes on land for their revenue, and the taxable value of land in the province was rapidly decreasing, Reeve Leyland said. Due to reduced assessments and reversions, the taxable value of land and improvements in the province had dropped by $70,000,000 in the last four years alone, and in the city of Victoria the decrease was even worse—from $115,955,930 in 1914 to $52,136,741 in 1934 and $45,656,580 in 1937.

Extracts were quoted to the Cabinet from the Putnam-Weir educational survey report in 1925, the Charlesworth revision committee report and the King report in 1935, in the early days, he pointed out, the entire cost had been born by the Government, but since 1920 the Government's share of the cost of education was steadily decreasing, the burden upon the municipalities was growing proportionately.

INTERNATIONAL MATCH WILL WEAKEN CLUB TEAMS

GAME BETWEEN WALES AND ENGLAND TAKING LEADING PERFORMERS

Arsenal Will Lose Five Stars—Other Teams Will Be Affected—Everton, League Leaders, to Oppose Leeds United—Celtic and Rangers Pacesetters in the Scottish League

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Many English football clubs will have weakened line-ups for Saturday's round of league games on account of the match between England and Wales at Cardiff. Arsenal will lose five stars.

Preston North End, the Gunners' opponent at Highbury, made a sporting gesture by offering to play the league fixture at a later date. The Londoners expressed appreciation of the offer but declined.

No doubt is entertained regarding the strength of England's defence against the Welshmen, but selection of Gouiden, West Ham United, and Bolton Wanderers, for the left wing of the attack, is the subject of some criticism. In previous international title Gouiden has usually had Morton, his clubmate, as partner.

The Welsh eleven will include Green, Charlton Athletic right half, whose two-year-old son was drowned this week in a fish pond in a neighbor's garden. The grief-stricken father finally decided to take part in the match.

Loyalty to their club, fighting for points in the danger zone of the major league, caused Richards and Hughes, Birmingham players, to offer to give up their places in the Welsh team. The Midland club's directors agreed to release them, however.

Three Everton players will be missing when the league-leading club opposes Leeds United. Derby County, whose point total is the same as Everton, play Manchester United. At full strength, Bolton Wanderers, only two points behind the pace-setting clubs, will fight hard at Huddersfield. The home team will play without Willingham and Young, noted halfbacks, chosen for England.

Fulham's place at the top of the Second Division table does not appear to be seriously threatened. The Londoners will entertain Southampton at the week-end and should be able to take the measure of the Saints, now in nineteenth position.

Third Division leaders are faced with real opposition. In the Southern Section, Newport County have a home match against Exeter City. The City has shown surprising strength this year. Barnsley and Oldham Athletic are joint leaders of the Northern circuit. The former plays Southport, beaten only once in the current campaign, and Oldham is away to Doncaster. Last Saturday Doncaster drew 1-1 at Barnsley.

GLASGOW, Oct. 20.—The race for soccer honors in the Scottish League again is developing a tight between Celtic and Rangers. During the past six years the Glasgow clubs have smashed all opposition, the light blues being successful four times and the Celts twice.

Although Rangers lead their rivals by a point, the youthful Celts have a game in hand and have shown defensive and attacking strength superior to any team in the league. Celtic's goal has been pierced only twelve times, while Rangers have given away twenty-four goals. The Celts scoring column shows forty-six goals netted, two more than Rangers.

Last Saturday, while Celtic and Clyde battled for the Glasgow Cup, Rangers moved to the top of the league standing by whipping Partick Thistle, 4-1. At the week-end Thistle are at home to Celtic and the match will afford a good opportunity for Glasgow fans to compare the performances of the contenders for leadership.

RANGERS TO TRAVEL. Rangers go to Kilmarnock, where the home team will have to play in top form to duplicate last year's 2-1 triumph.

Joint holders of third position in the league table, Aberdeen and Queen of the South, both play on foreign soil against strong championship clubs. Aberdeen meets Hearts at Tynecastle Park, while the Duffries outfit plays Clyde.

Queen's Park is away to Albion Rovers. The famous amateurs are at the bottom of the league with five points and Rovers are only one point higher.

A triple deadlock exists at the top of the second division, Cowdenbeath, Alloa and East Fife setting the pace with 16 points. Alloa may go under at Dunfermline but ground advantage should give Cowdenbeath and East Fife the points against Dundee and Dumbarton respectively.

Joe Louis Will Defend Boxing Title in April

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Mike Jacobs announced today Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis would defend his title next April in San Francisco against the winner of the Lou Nova-Tommy Parr-Max Baer elimination series. Jacobs, New York bound from Pacific Coast promotional huddles, said the San Francisco World Fair committee would underwrite the fight with a $500,000 guarantee.

Two Moose Downed by Guns of Hunting Trio

Island Party Returns to City After Successful Eight-Day Trek Through Cariboo Country—Bear And Deer Also Bagged by Hunters

Traffic in Broad Street was almost brought to a standstill late yesterday afternoon by the slightly startling sight of two big moose heads, a full grown black bear and a mule deer traveling sedately through the downtown thoroughfare.

The big game, however, were not traveling under their own locomotion. Instead the animals grazed the fenders and running-boards of a travel-stained sedan belonging to a trio of Island hunters fresh from an eight-day trip into the Cariboo.

The party, consisting of James Dugan and George Locke, of Cobble Hill, and Reg Rigby, of Cowichan Station, paused briefly in the city before continuing homewards with the trophies. But it was long enough to attract a large crowd of nearly one hundred curious city dwellers.

Grimacing good-naturedly as scores of assorted little urchins ran their hands wonderingly over the huge spread of the moose antlers, and lined imaginary sights of imaginary guns at the gaping mouth of the bear, Dugan told briefly of the trip.

"We drove into Lakelse Lake, about thirty-five miles from Williams Lake, in the Cariboo, and after arranging a base at a farmhouse there we packed our sleeping bags out into the brush. I killed one of the moose with three shots from a 300 calibre gun, and Locke brought down the other," he related. One animal had twenty-three points and the other nineteen.

"Each of the animals weighed about 1,200 pounds. Rigby nailed the bear and I added the mule deer just before we broke camp," he said. Due to lack of transportation the party was able to bring back only the heads by means of a pack train.

Cream of Golfing Talent to Meet in Exhibition Match

MEETING for the fourth time in a game that should display golf at its best, Joe Pryke and Freddie Clunk, popular pros at Cowwood and Gorge Vale, will tee off against the combination of Jimmie Todd, city amateur champion, and Phil Taylor, Victoria Golf Club professional, in an exhibition match at Gorge Vale, starting at 1:30 Sunday. Pryke and Clunk, although never quite able to match shot-for-shot with the Todd-Taylor combination, have nevertheless pressed their competitors right to the eighteenth green in their previous matches. And the selling public will undoubtedly be treated to an eighteen-hole battle worthy of the Caledonian origin. In view of the popular interest aroused by a match of this type, club officials have issued an "open house" invitation to all and sundry.

DUBONNET MADE RACE FAVORITE

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Dubonnet, owned by J. Hornung, became favorite tonight for next Wednesday's Cesarewitch when the cards were called over at the Victoria Club. Dubonnet's new odds were 10 to 1, compared with 12 to 1 previously when he was second choice.

James Rank's Black Speck slipped to fourth choice after having been 100 to 8 favorite. Second choice was Sir W. Burdette's Solonaise at 13 to 1.

Other odds: Snipe Wood, 100 to 7; Black Speck, Snake Lightning and Contravert, 15 to 1; Pet, 100 to 6; Olympus, 20 to 1; Earth-stopper, 22 to 1; Harwood and Love's Legend, 25 to 1; Murbarak, Stanless Stephen and Queen's Shilling, 28 to 1; C. M. Nettledew, Miss Windsor and Hanfield, 33 to 1; Strilam, Kovitz and Gyppo, 40 to 1; Strilam, Trevikani and Tapageur, 50 to 1; Archduke, Artist's Prince, Fairing, Holne Chase and Repondant, 66 to 1; Golden Shore, Harvest Home and Treador III, 100 to 1.

Briggs—"You've been married a good few years now, haven't you, old boy?"
Simmons—"I'll say we have. We've started on our third toast; rack."

SEVEN SOCCER MATCHES ARE CARDED HERE

Senior, Intermediate and Merchants' Leagues Have Full Programme

Four senior soccer elevens will swing into action tomorrow as clubs in the Victoria and District Football League continue their bids for the league honors won last year by the Victoria West.

Garrison, with a 7-1 victory over the Saanich Thistles to their credit, will oppose Esquimalt at the Royal Athletic Park. Tommies can look for some real opposition here, as reports from the dockyard village would indicate the dockers have lined up a well-balanced team. Robb will referee.

Victoria West will open their title defence at Heywood Avenue, where they are scheduled to meet the Saanich Thistles, and should have an edge over the suburbanites. However, despite the 7-1 reverse, they suffered last week, the Saanich lads, with additional training sessions under their belts, feel confident of giving the greenhorns plenty of trouble. Swan will referee.

Kick-offs are set for 3 o'clock.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

Three matches are carded for clubs in the Intermediate Football League as follows:

MERCHANTS' LEAGUE

Merchants' Football League elevens will resume their battles for the New Method Laundry Cup, emblematic of the league championship, with two games on the programme. Admirals vs. Mount Tolmie, Victoria West Park; referee, E. Paul. Navy vs. Conservatives, Central Park; referee, E. Bray. Kick-offs at 2:30 o'clock.

Esquimalt line-up follows: Hood, Moody, Laird, Barnwell, Hallett, McBay, Bell, A. Stewart, J. Watt, G. Payne, Cooper, Holt, J. Watt, H. Sage and Gould.

RINK PLANS TO GO TO COUNCIL

Delegations Asks Conference With City Fathers On Proposed Arena

Latest plans for erection of Victoria's oft-proposed ice arena will be submitted to the City Council at an early date, according to word received following a meeting of interested citizens under the chairmanship of F. E. Winslow in Spencer's dining-room yesterday. Five aides-men attended the function.

After discussing the situation from various angles the meeting drafted a resolution authorizing the chairman to write the council and ask that a date be set for a joint meeting of the mayor and the civic body with the Victoria Forum Association to discuss civic requirements pertaining to placing a money by-law before the electors at the December election.

Suggestions were made at the meeting that the financing might be arranged under the 2 per cent building loan programme of the Dominion Government, with the City Council underwriting the amount. It was also suggested that a sum of $150,000 would be sufficient to construct the arena, which if financed over a period of twenty years would require less than $10,000 annually to pay interest and provide for sinking fund requirements.

C. Elwood Watkins, architect, told of plans drawn for the arena and referred to an alternate site on Pandora Avenue, which is advocated in some quarters. He stated that the site on Douglas Street might not provide sufficient area for expansion.

CUP FOURSOMES AT GORGE VALE

Draw for the knockout foursomes for the Wenker Trophy at the Gorge Vale Golf Club, first round to be played Saturday or Sunday, follows:
Miss Flora Hills and Mrs. W. E. Cook vs. Miss Maureen Hill and Miss Worthington; Mrs. H. P. Hodges and Miss A. Baine vs. Mrs. E. Macintosh and Miss Foster; Miss L. Neuhann and Miss Douglas vs. Miss C. L. Harris and Miss Milne; Mrs. R. H. Port and Mrs. Bassett vs. Mrs. E. Walker and Miss V. Gleason; Mrs. C. H. Cross and Mrs. Cooper vs. Mrs. D. W. Morry and Miss K. Elton; Mrs. L. Siburn and Miss K. Clarkson vs. Miss Jarvis and Miss Corrin.

Young Mother: "Nannie, when you take baby out, just see that nobody kisses her."
Nurse: "Don't you worry, ma'am, nobody will kiss baby while I am about."

Rugby Squads to Open Barnard Cup Series Tomorrow

Wanderers to Battle Navy and Bays Will Oppose Canadian Scottish—Games Carded at Macdonald Park—Kick-Offs at 3 o'Clock—Intermediate Matches on Programme

Victoria Rugby fans are sitting back today and waiting for the opening tomorrow afternoon at Macdonald Park of the senior race for the Barnard Cup, symbolic of the city championship, at present held by the J.B.A. rugger.

Four clubs, Bays, Navy, Oak Bay Wanderers and the Canadian Scottish, are scheduled to see action in the initial clashes, with Macdonald Park as the scene of action. Kick-offs are set for 3 o'clock.

Wanderers, present holders of the Cowichan Trophy, emblematic of the Vancouver Island supremacy, will make their debut against the Navy on the upper pitch at the James Bay enclosure. Rival squads will trot out many new players, and indications point to the match being keenly fought.

On the lower ground, James Bay, defending city champions, will open their title defence against the Canadian Scottish. The oarsmen have their championship squad practically intact and should make a real good job of defending the silverware.

Scottish, back in senior company after a short absence, will introduce a number of their last year's "B" players into the senior "A" loop. Added to the youngsters will be a few seasoned campaigners who, club officials feel, will round out a smart fifteen.

Pangman will referee the Wanderers-Navy match, and E. J. Symons will officiate at the Bays-Scottish game.

INTERMEDIATE GAMES

Intermediate fifteens opened their season last week with the Wanderers and the Canadian Scottish scoring victories. Tomorrow the two leaders will clash at Work Point Barracks, the game being moved to the Garrison ground. The other intermediate tussle will bring together Victoria College and the Navy Whites at the Victoria High School ground. Matches will start at 3 o'clock. Sweetnam will handle the whistle.

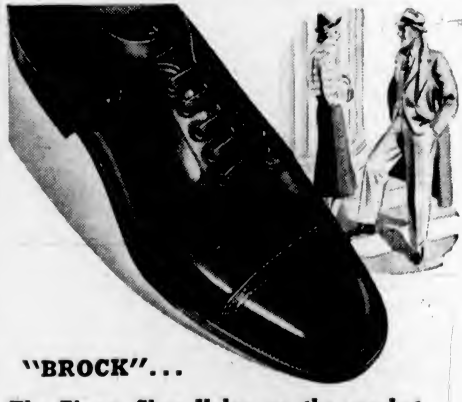

TOO FEW FRIENDS

The alert Shelby (Ala.) Democrat reports the case of a man who was defeated ignominiously when he ran for the office of sheriff.

He got fifty-five votes out of a total of 3,500, and the next day he walked down Main Street with two guns hanging from his belt.

"You were not elected, and you have no right to carry guns," fellow-citizens told him.

"Listen, folks," he replied, "a man with no more friends than I've got in this country needs to carry guns."

SCHOOL GALA DRAWS MANY

Two Hundred and Twenty-Five Swimmers to Compete Tonight

Proud parents and cheering sections from eighteen Victoria public and private schools will throng the galleries at the Crystal Garden swimming pool tonight at 8 o'clock to witness the start of the largest gala ever to be held under the auspices of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club.

Approximately two hundred and twenty aspiring young swimmers will be on hand to battle it out for the three trophies at stake. Two of the feature events will be the defence of the coveted Britannia Branch trophy by the South Park boys' relay team, last year's winners, and aquatic tilt for the girls' relay Freestyle trophy. The school competing the greatest number of points in the meet will be awarded the handsome Sir Edward Beatty Cup. Swimming entries will be on hand from Oaklands, Craigflower, Gordon Head, Normal Model, Sir James Douglas, Cloverdale, Margaret Jenkins, Toimie, Quadra, Monterey, Willow, Victoria West, Central Junior High, Mount Douglas High School, Esquimalt High, Victoria High, Mount View High and Oak Bay High.

CHINESE TAKE HOOP FIXTURE

Students Score Overtime Win Against Stubborn West Road Squad

Staging a last-minute rally to force the rampaging Chinese Students into overtime, the West Road squad last night dropped a heart-breaking men's senior "B" game, 30-26, in five minutes extra play in the Victoria High School gymnasium. The victory gave the Students their second straight win of the series.

After battling to a 12-9 lead in the first half, West Road were trailing, 23-22, as Timekeeper Colie Chambers reached out to sound the bell. A fraction of a second before the close, however, Referee Macmurchie halted play on a Student foul, and the West Road squad sank the tying basket to bring the fans from their seats.

In the overtime game, Cayes led the Bees home by a count of 26-20 in the intermediate "A" game, while the Beavers trounced Garrison in a men's "C" tilt, 38-22.

Referee—Macmurchie and Alexander.

Line-ups and individual scores follow:

Chinese Students—George Lowe (12), Wallace Lee (1), Herbert Chan (8), Chuck Nip (2), Roy Nip (5), Allan Chan and Ben Mar (2).
West Road—E. Butler (9), R. Mitchell (10), McAlly (1), A. Gunn (1), B. Gunn (3), W. Butler and B. Mitchell (2).
Beavers—B. Slurp (11), T. Ellis (2), D. Featherston (4), D. Ghent (14), Dr. Girard (2), G. Meadmore, J. McEwen and K. Ghent (5).
Garrison—Wilkinson (3), Gentley (4), Wright (10), Sparks, Richardson (2), McCorkill (4), Pocock, Sedger and Davidson.
Cayes—James (1), Beare (1), Fields (7), Fair (2), Cumming (2), Morrison (1), Inglis, Davies (7) and Cozier (5).
Beas—Taylor (4), Richards (3), Stevenson (2), Minnis (3), Watson (4), Prendergast (1) and Thomas (3).

Mrs. A. Dowell was declared winner of the Autumn Cup electric competition at the Royal Colwood Golf Club with a score of 79-2-77.

Soccer Chatter

BY C. V. MILTON

At last the season has started. Let us hope that a late start does not mean a late end. Last season actually finished on the day that the season opened in the Old Country.

Saanich, badly beaten in the opener by a strong Garrison team, need not take it too much to heart. A parallel is to be found in last season's curtain-raiser when Garrison ran wild over a new Esquimalt team. But remember how the Dockers recovered later on.

One of the finest decisions ever made by a governing body was that made by the league at a recent meeting. Boys will be admitted to games free of charge. They are now much more likely to become interested in the best of Winter games, and what boy can watch any game without being fired with the ambition to become an expert player?

A rosy outlook for big games this season. The commission has promised not to allow the Inter-City League to die out as it did last year, and that means another probable triumph for the Victoria United.

Plenty of inter-city games attract many a backsliding fan back to the game, and given even one game a month, teams can expect much better support than they received towards the end of the last season. One the fans something more and they will flock in to pay their quarters.

Victoria City Wednesday Leaguers had the sympathy of all the soccer world when they started off with a broken leg. The accident is so rare nowadays that it can be claimed that soccer has lost none of its robust character while becoming one of the safest and sanest of all games.

Juveniles in Victoria are idle for want of sponsors who are willing to finance clubs for boys. I might suggest to some of our service clubs and other organizations that it would be good community work and even Christian service to help these kids to realize their ambition. Such work should not be undertaken solely for its advertising value.

Soccer Activities

The Esquimalt Meat Market juvenile football team, made up of boys under sixteen years of age, will hold a workout at Victoria West Park on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock. All players are asked to turn out.

Boys between the ages of twelve and sixteen years wishing to play football are asked to be at Victoria West Park tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. Fred Tooby, who has been successful in securing sponsors for two teams, will be on hand to meet the players.

TO ATTEMPT NEW RECORD

Dean Hanover, Four-Year-Old Trotter, Out to Lower Mark

GOSHEN, N.Y., Oct. 20 (AP).—Trotters and pacers already have knocked five world records from their pedestals this year and still another may fall Saturday when Dean Hanover, from Lawrence B. Sheppard's Hanover, A. Farms goes against the clock at Aiken, S.C.

Dean was the fastest four-year-old trotter of the 1938 grand circuit season, stepping a mile in 1:58.1-2. He'll try to lower that mark on Saturday.

Most sensational champion of the season is Billy Direct, four-year-old son of Napoleon Direct. Owned by McComille and Downey, of Ogdensburg, N.Y., and with Vic Fleming, of Dundas, Ont., and Syracuse, N.Y., handling the reins, Billy Direct paced a mile in 1:55, a quarter of a second faster than Dan Patch's thirty-three-year-old record.

But since Dan Patch's mark was not considered official because it was made with a shield to break wind resistance, the New York-owned pacer really knocked 13-4 seconds from the official world mark, held by Directum I since 1915.

OTHER RECORDS
Other world records were established by B. C. Mayor's Chief Counsel, at Tarboro, N.C.; E. J. Baker's Her Ladyship, and Rosalind, fast-stepping trotting mare owned by O'Connell White, of Lexington, Ky.

Chief Counsel lowered the mark for three-year-old pacers to 1:57-4. Her Ladyship paced a mile in 1:56-3-4 for a new mark for aged mares, and Rosalind went the same distance in 1:56-3-4 to hang up a new record for aged trotting mares.

DIAMOND FAILS TO LURE RUTH

"King of Swat" Says Retirement Still Stands Despite Many Offers

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP).—To all intents and purposes, Babe Ruth is through with baseball—and vice versa—at least for the time being.

You hear talk and rumors the big fellow quit his coaching job with Brooklyn Dodgers to land another spot, possibly a managerial berth in the American Association. But right now you can take the Babe's word for it, he has no immediate prospects of a return to the game he pulled to $1,000,000 heights, and which did the same for him.

"Not me," he said today. "There's nothing to those reports."

"All I'm interested in these days is hunting and fishing and maybe more golf. I'm going to do all the things a young guy does to keep from growing old."

Of course, there's always the possibility that when the Major and Minor League meetings roll round or when the Spring arrives with its call to another diamond campaign the Babe may be gripped by the ball fever again.

SOME OFFERS
He might land in Milwaukee, as has been hinted, or in Montreal, where Rabbit Maranville was fired last year, or it is even conceivable the big leagues can find a spot for the Bambino.

"I've had some offers—sure," Ruth explained. "But they were nothing I wanted. You know, I don't have to worry about where my next meal is coming from, so I can take what I want."

It was definite weeks ago that the Babe wouldn't be back with Brooklyn next year. He and Lippy Durocher, the Dodgers' new manager, weren't exactly Damon and Pythias in one or two clubhouse sessions. So when Lippy Leo was sprained for his appointment to succeed "Boiling Bolly" Grimes the Babe knew he and the Daffiness boys were parting company.

DOG FANCIERS TO HOLD SHOW

City Kennel Club to Open First of Fall Judging Competitions

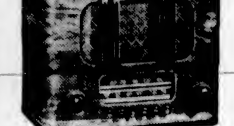

The first parlor show of the Fall season will be held by the City Kennel Club on Saturday, October 22, in the old Angus Campbell store on Government Street. J. Meadows, of Vancouver, one of the oldest and best-known Coast fanciers, will judge entries. From inquiries that have come in to date, show officials expect the display will be one of the largest ever held locally.

Classes in each breed are being arranged for junior and senior puppy dogs, novice dogs, open dogs and bitches. Special prizes will be awarded for the best toy, non-sporting, working, terriers, sporting hounds and sporting as well as specials for the best puppy in each of the six mentioned groups. A handsome special will be at stake for the winner of the best-in-show all breed competition, and another for the best puppy, all breeds.

A class which has been added this year to lend special outside interest is the best novice in show award, which will go to the top light dog which has not hitherto won first prize in previous meets, and belonging to a non-member of any kennel club. Entries will be taken at the door, beginning at 7 o'clock, and judging will commence promptly at 8. For further information, phone Mrs. J. R. Clark at Empire 2536.

Speaker Says China Needs Help Sorely

"We should not be too discouraged by recent events in Southern China; it must be remembered that the invader is very far from his base of supplies. Of course, there is greatly increased suffering, and the need for any help we can give is appallingly urgent," said Joe Hope in a short talk given last evening before the Canadian Friends of the Chinese People at the Business and Professional Women's clubrooms, View Street.

Mr. Hope outlined conditions in the great hinterland of China, stressing the good that would undoubtedly come from the necessary co-operation between the younger university-trained people and the older folk who cling to the ancient culture. Good background reading, both on present conditions and on the China of other days and ways, might be obtained from the Victoria Public Library.

Dr. D. M. Baillie was in the chair, and final arrangements were completed for the forthcoming visit of the "Chinese Cornelia Otis Skinner," Miss Soo Yong, who is to appear under the auspices of the group at the Empire Theatre on Thursday night, October 27.

Reading Course Lecture Series Opening Today

The opening lecture in the series of the Y.W.C.A. reading course is to be given this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Raymond Guyler, director of the Beaux-Arts Dramatic Society. His topic will be "Contemporary Theatres in London and

New York," a subject on which he is well equipped to speak. The chairman for this year's reading group series is to be Miss Flora Brink, and other speakers before Christmas will be Dr. Henrietta Anderson, Miss Jeannette Carr, Mrs. Ross Napier and Miss Jean Elliott. The final programme for the current affairs course will be announced shortly, but members may at least count upon such speakers as Dean Elliott, H. D. Dee, Miss Ruth Humphrey, and Dr. Grant Lathe, Montreal, who spent the summer in China.

Meetings are held in the Y.W.C.A. clubrooms from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. "Current Affairs" and reading groups on alternate Fridays. Everyone is welcome, and tickets for the season may be purchased at the door.

LEGIONNAIRES BACK IN THEIR HOMELAND

NAPLES, Oct. 20 (AP).—With 10,000 Italian Legionnaires landed today on their native soil after a year and a half of service in the Spanish civil war, Italian newspapers said less than 20,000 of their comrades remained in Spain.

The press cited 40,000 as the number that had gone to Spain to fight for the insurgent cause.

LONG TIME SALE

OSKALOOSA, Ia., Oct. 20 (AP).—Sixty-five years ago Mrs. Mariam Story, of Oskaloosa, sold her grandmother's rosewood chest to a neighbor for $4.00. Yesterday she bought it back from a neighbor's daughter for $4.00.

Charges Against Boxer Dismissed

ROCKLAND, Me., Oct. 20 (AP).—Municipal Judge Zelma M. Dwinall today dismissed the manslaughter charges against Roy P. Worcester, twenty-year-old Bangor heavy-weight boxer, in connection with the death here last night of Henry L. King, twenty-one, of Worcester, Mass., at the end of their ten-round bout.

Medical Examiner H. J. Weisman, who supervised attempts to resuscitate King, attributed death to a hemorrhage of the sac encircling the heart.

NAZI BOOKS BANNED

REGINA, Oct. 20 (C)—Because many contained Nazi propaganda, most of the books received in a shipment from Germany by the Regina Public Library will be placed in storage and will not be put into circulation, the Regina Library board decided today. A review showed about 40 per cent of the books were in the nature of Nazi propaganda. All were in German.

NAVAL HEAD VISITS CITY

Rear-Admiral P. W. Nelles, R.C.N., Arrives to Inspect Esquimalt Base

REAR-ADMIRAL NELLES

Rear-Admiral Percy W. Nelles, R.C.N., chief of the naval staff, arrived in Victoria yesterday afternoon to make an official inspection of the ships and establishments at the Esquimalt naval base. Accompanied by Mrs. Nelles, he will remain here until October 29.

This is Rear-Admiral Nelles' third visit to Victoria since he became chief of the naval staff, but his first visit since he was appointed rear-admiral on August 4 last. Formerly commander-in-charge at the Esquimalt station, in 1928-29, Rear-Admiral Nelles is the first Canadian-born director of the Dominion's naval affairs.

Rear-Admiral Nelles was welcomed on the arrival of the steamer yesterday afternoon by Captain Victor G. Brodeur, R.C.N., senior officer in charge at Esquimalt, and by J. W. Spencer, with whom he will stay during his visit to the city. This morning Rear-Admiral Nelles will pay formal calls on Hon. E. W. Hamber, Lieutenant-Governor, and Brigadier J. C. Stewart, district officer commanding Military District No. 11.

MRS. W. J. KIDMAN PASSES TO REST

QUALICUM BEACH, Oct. 20.—Mrs. W. J. Kidman, well-known resident of Coombs and for many years a devoted community worker, passed to her rest last week at the home of her niece, Mrs. Peggy Manwill, at Crawford Bay. A native of England, Mrs. Kidman was the daughter of Rev. Arthur Watts, of Witton-Gilbert Rectory, Durham, and came to Canada in 1911, settling at Crawford Bay, where she and her husband resided for twenty years, coming to Coombs in 1931. On leaving Crawford Bay she was made a life member of the Women's Institute, in which she had served as secretary since the foundation of the branch. She was an untiring worker for the Qualicum Beach and District Women's Institute, and the Women's Auxiliary, Mount Arrowsmith Branch, Canadian Legion, and was at the time of her death president of the Parkville-Qualicum District Garden Club.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Smythe, of Creston, in the church where for many years she had served as organist. Many floral tributes from her friends of the Coombs and Crawford Bay districts covered the grave.

She leaves to mourn her passing, her husband, W. J. Kidman; her niece, Mrs. Manwill, and two brothers and two sisters, P. Watts and Rev. H. Watts, and Mrs. C. Palmer, in England, and Mrs. H. Greenwood, in Australia.

Court of Appeal Victoria Sittings

Wilson Lumber Co., Ltd. (A) vs. E. & N. Railway (R)—The argument of this appeal was concluded yesterday and the judgment reserved. Etta Fanny Robinson (R) vs. C.P.R. (A)—This is an appeal by the defendant from a judgment of Mr. Justice Murphy and a jury rendered on the 25th day of March, 1938. The respondent is the widow of George Spencer Robinson, New Westminster, B.C., who was killed by a flat car belonging to the defendant on November 4, 1936. The widow brought the action under the "Families Compensation Act" for damages for herself and four infant children. The deceased was fifty-eight years of age, and an employee of the Keystone Shingle Co., Ltd., of Lulu Island.

It was alleged that as Robinson and other men were crossing the defendant's tracks in New Westminster, he was struck by a flat car which was running loose. As it was in the evening, the plaintiff claimed the company was negligent in not having a light on the car or an employee to warn anyone crossing the tracks. The defendant says the deceased was a trespasser and therefore, it was under no duty to give warning as he crossed at his own risk.

The jury awarded $15,000—$10,000 to the widow and $5,000 to the children, but as it found the deceased was a trespasser and therefore, it was under no duty to give warning as he crossed at his own risk. The jury awarded $15,000—$10,000 to the widow and $5,000 to the children, but as it found the deceased was a trespasser and therefore, it was under no duty to give warning as he crossed at his own risk. Judgment was reserved by the Court of Appeal.
